

Centre for Baptist History and Heritage, Oxford
with the Baptist Historical Society

Trinity, Creed and Confusion

*A study-day marking the 300th Anniversary of the
Salters' Hall Debate
(February-March 1719)*

Saturday 23 March 2019
at Regent's Park College,
Pusey Street, Oxford OX1

Image by permission of the British Library

10.00 am Arrival and Welcome (tea/coffee available from 9.30 am)

10.15 am "The Salters' Hall Debate: was it a controversy over subscription to doctrine?"
by Dr David Wykes, Director of the Dr Williams's Library, London.

11.30 am Break for tea or coffee (provided)
Opportunity to see the exhibition arranged by the Angus Library

12.00 am "The Trinity at Salters' Hall and among Baptists today" by Dr Steve Holmes, Senior Lecturer in Systematic Theology, University of St Andrews.

1.15 pm Break for lunch (bring your own sandwiches—drinks provided)

2.00 pm "Mistaken Identity or Suitable Nicknames? The Case of the Particular Baptists at Salters' Hall." by Dr Stephen McKay, Lecturer in Baptist Studies, Morling College Sydney.

3.15—4 pm Round-table Discussion led by the Revd Stephen Copson, Secretary of the Baptist
Historical Society (who also leads discussion after each paper) - over tea and coffee

*The fee for the study day is £10, payable on the day, and includes all drinks.
To secure your place please write to: paul.fiddes@regents.ox.ac.uk.*